Intercultural Communication 101

Location:

What can we learn about ourselves by reviewing the research about cultural differences East and West? Many theoretical approaches regard Asia and the West to be the dominant contrastive cultural traditions. This class will explore the features of those differences and help you to communicate better by knowing some of the differing norms for behavior and communication.

Instructor: Dr. John Patrick, Assistant Director of Forensics, Cal State San Luis Obispo

2:00PM – 4:00PM

Intercultural Communication 102

What can we learn about ourselves by reviewing the research about cultural differences East and West? Many theoretical approaches regard Asia and the West to be the dominant contrastive cultural traditions. This class will explore the features of those differences and help you to communicate better by knowing some of the differing norms for behavior and communication.

Instructor: Dr. John Patrick, Assistant Director of Forensics, Cal State San Luis Obispo

Day 5 – Thursday, July 21, 2016 – Pomona

10:00AM-12:00PM

Toxic and Intoxicating Leadership

Location:

Are there styles of leadership which would be considered toxic in any culture at any time? What are the cultural, historical and contextual apologies for bullies and tyrants? What should followers do? Students will deepen their understanding of communication theory to sharpen their sense of what makes a “good” leader. What are the features which stand out in any culture or any time or any situation? The class will look at historical leaders to consider the differing forces of culture, gender, warfare, geography and climate in the formation of good leaders. How do peoples make it through tough times intact?

Instructor: Dr. John Patrick, Assistant Director of Forensics, Cal State San Luis Obispo

2:00PM-4:00PM

Location:

Team Building Activities

For any team to succeed, 8 or so essential roles must be carried out with leadership appropriate to each. Learn about these roles, how individuals change roles or take on more than one, and then based on each team's experience and each individual's self-assessment, all roles will be distributed among each team's 5 or so members.

Students will then cluster in new temporary teams according to self-assessment insights and role assignments. These teams will be formed each with a distribution of styles. The activity will culminate with a fun and friendly competition.

The kit of materials for the final project will be distributed to each team.

Day 6 – Friday, July 22, 2016 – Pomona

9:00AM-9:30AM

Location:

Travel Briefing

Learn about what you will see, get maps, find out about shopping and restaurants and learn the rules for the day. Each team will also have some specific instructions for fun things to find and report about.

Day 9 – Monday, July 25, 2016 – Pomona

10:00AM-12:00PM Leadership 101

Location: Is a leader born or can one make oneself a leader? What are the skills and traits which make a leader? What are the arenas within which one's personal and cultural style of leadership can be exercised, and how does one find the right one? Students will evaluate their own interpersonal "style" and learn about how teams must compose a variety of balanced work-styles to be effective. The group project will be introduced.

Instructor: Dr. John Patrick, Assistant Director of Forensics, Cal State San Luis Obispo

2:00PM-4:00PM Leadership 102

Location: Review the results of the morning self-assessment and learn some more about theoretical and practical approaches to understanding leadership. This class will involve some activities to practice what has been learned.

Instructor: Dr. John Patrick, Assistant Director of Forensics, Cal State San Luis Obispo

Day 10 – Tuesday, July 26, 2016 – Pomona

10:00AM-12:00PM Public Speaking & Leadership

Location: Public speaking, leadership and professional communication require self-knowledge as well as solid skills. An effective public speaker must know his audience, and that includes the cultural context for the public act of speech. A confident public speaker or communicator is also a good performer. This class will evoke everyone's personal talents, and help to mesh them appropriately with cultural norms so that each participant can shine.

Instructor: Dr. John Patrick, Assistant Director of Forensics, Cal State San Luis Obispo

2:00PM-4:00PM

Location:

Collaboration

What are the various models to get people working together, ranging from command and control through group consensus? Using examples from business, what are the most effective ways that our groups can work together toward a successful outcome? This class will guide our work in teams.

Instructor: Dr. John Patrick, Assistant Director of Forensics, Cal State San Luis Obispo

Day 11 – Wednesday, July 27, 2016 – Pomona

10:00AM-12:00PM

Location:

Add. Classrooms:

Public Speaking & Debate Practicum

Language coaches will conduct this session to help you to improve your English language usage.

How does one engage an audience? An effective leader must be able to read the audience and adjust to different group dynamics and cultural differences. This class will explore and practice the constants and variables in good public speaking. Time will be provided to break up into teams to prepare for the final speeches.
